

WARNING

Old mines and quarries are dangerous. Keep well clear of old mine shafts and quarry faces, whether fenced or not. Take particular care if you leave the designated walk route, as old workings may be hidden by undergrowth. On no account should you venture underground unless guided by an experienced mine explorer with local knowledge.

